PHILADELPHIA GIRL FATALLY HURT AS MOTORCYCLE CRASHES NEAR SOUTH LANGHORNE; THREE OTHERS INJURED

Shirley E. Green, 18, Strikes
Head; Thrown From The 'Cycle

OPERATOR IS HURT
Second Motorcycle Also Fails
To Make Curve; Two Riders Treated

An 18-year-old Philadelphia girl, riding on the rear of a motorcycle, was fatally hurt this morning at 1:30, when the 'cycle skidded and overturned when the operator failed to make a curve on Durham Road, near South Langhorne. Another couple on one of five other motorcycles following, likewise skidded to a stop and overturned, it not being definitely determined if the second vehicle struck the first or not. In all four were injured.

The dead:
Shirley Elizabeth Green, 18, of 705 W. Venango street, Philadelphia, injured to head.

The injured:
William Moser, 2821 Plum street, Philadelphia.

Miss Irene Zandell, 18, of 4128 Salem street, Philadelphia.

Bernard Moeller, 24, Bristol R. D. No. 2.

According to records of Pennsylvania Motor Police, South Langhorne barracks, approximately six motorcycles were in a group, travelling toward Bristol. The first one to round the curve, located between South Langhorne borough and Helling's Corner, Middletown Township, was the one operated by Moser. Miss Green was thrown from the 'cycle and her head striking some object, possibly the hard surface of the highway, she was fatally injured.

The second machine to attempt the curve was driven by Moeller, and this too skidded and crashed. Moeller and Miss Zandell were but slightly hurt. All four of the injured were taken by Parkland First Aid Station to the Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, where death occurred a few hours later for Miss Green.

No arrests have been made as yet.

Held Up and Robbed
Bridgeton, N. J., Sept. 27—Frank B. Felmev, manager of the store on the vast 30,000-acre Seabrook Farms, near here, was waylaid as he left his home this morning and robbed of $4,000 he was taking to the farm to cash pay checks.

Felmev had just entered his automobile at the curb when the robbers drove up. One man shoved a pistol at him, demanding the money. Felmev was dragged out and shoved to the ground. The bandits then escaped.

Nazis Claim Victory
Berlin, Sept. 27—Complete victory in the "greatest battle in history," with 665,000 Russian prisoners captured in gigantic pockets east of Kiev, was announced by Hitler's front-line headquarters today.

In one titanic blow, the Germans said, Hitler has wiped out approximately one million Reds, killed, wounded, or taken prisoner, after a two weeks' blitz.

Dead were conservatively estimated by Berlin authorities at 300,000.

Without pausing for a moment, huge German columns already are thrusting forward in new offensives, speedily following up the advantages gained in the crushing of five armies of Marshal Budenny.

Annihilation of the five armies, according to German military authorities in Berlin "far overshadows the worth of any possible Anglo-American aid. It nullifies the three-power consultations now going on in Moscow. It places all the winter initiative in Hitler's hands."

On the south, central, and Leningrad fronts meanwhile the Luftwaffe unfolded "monadic raids" against all Red rear communications, troop concentrations, supply bases, and field positions.

BUCKS SHERIFF WRITES TO SHERIFF IN ENGLAND

William L. Stackhouse Receives Reply By Way of the Clipper

TELLS OF DUTY, HOME

Bucks County Sheriff William L. Stackhouse recently hit upon the idea of writing a letter to an English sheriff as a means of getting some first hand information about the conditions in Great Britain. He has received an answer to his letter which came by clipper, after being officially read and examined by a censor, and was mailed in Falmouth, Cornwall, England.

Shirley S. Timmis, of Butlers Court, Beaconsfield, Bucks, whose temporary address is Grove House, Grove Road, Beaconsfield, in a very friendly letter said in part:

"I was very glad to get your kind and friendly letter. We in this country are deeply grateful for all that is being done for us in the present struggle by your President and all the people in the U. S. A.

"I imagine the position of Sheriff of a county in the U. S. A. is very different to the position here. I am only High Sheriff for one year. The duties are very slight and owing to war time conditions this very ancient office is short of most of the ceremony and trappings.

"Buckinghamshire is one of the smaller English counties, situated northwest of London and Aylesbury, the county town, where the assize is held is about 40 miles from London."

Sheriff Timmis goes on to say that he lives at Beaconsfield, about 25 miles from London and about 30 miles from Oxford.

"My house, Butlers Court, is at present a Rex X Hospital and I live temporarily in a small house. I am not very far from Cliveden, a magnificent estate on the Thames owned by Lord Astor. I think I am right in saying that his father, the First Lord Astor, was the first American to become an English Peer. This is a very beautifully wooded country and a large part of it is still unspoiled by modern developments in building."

Writing that he wishes all prosperity to the County of Bucks, here, Sheriff Timmis reminded Sheriff Stackhouse that because of the war he was unable to discuss politics, conduct or progress of the war.

Signing the letter as the High Sheriff of Buckinghamshire, he added that Penn is also in Bucks only about four miles from Beaconsfield.

TEN JUVENILE CASES ARE DISPOSED OF

Judge Calvin S. Boyer Presides at Sessions Held for Two Days

DROVE MINUS LICENSE

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 27—With ten cases disposed of in two days of juvenile court hearings, Judge Calvin S. Boyer was confronted with two types of juveniles operating cars without operators' licenses.

In some cases, the juveniles between the age of 16 and 18 had never had an operator's license, and in others they had an operator's license but were driving a car without them when they were apprehended by officers.

Judge Boyer, who asserted that there has been a decided increase in the number of juveniles operating cars without licenses, said any juvenile offender apprehended driving a car without an operator's license will not be permitted to apply for an operator's license until 18 years of age except with the permission of the Court.

For the careless and negligent juvenile operators, who drive a car without their operator's license with them, although they have one, Judge Boyer ruled that their present operator's license will be taken up and they will not be permitted to apply for a new one until they have reached the age of 18 years.

Juveniles may normally and legally apply for an operator's license when they reach the age of 16.

Another phase of juvenile driving which Judge Boyer deplored was that in some of the cases juveniles with operators' licenses permitted unlicensed juveniles to drive their cars.

Of the ten juveniles heard, two were involved in accidents.

In one case the damage amounted to $15 and in another to $400.

"One juvenile, who apparently had no conception of the rate of speed at which he was travelling, drove into an intersection at 30 miles an hour, overturning another car twice."

Judge Boyer, who said a college girl was an offender in one case, explained one juvenile was operating a car on a learner's permit when involved in an accident.

PANDORA'S UNDERSTUDY

Come war or high water, the zoo must go on. One of New York Zoo's biggest drawing cards was Pandora, the giant panda from the foothills of Tibet. Pandora, though she had a special diet of orange juice, carrots, apples and honey, sickened and died. To replace her and to bring back other rare specimens, John Tee-Van of the New York Zoological Society will fly from New York to Australia, New Zealand, and thence to the Far East.

He hopes to bring home to New York several animals which are all but unknown to zoo-goers in this country. On the list are the duck-bill platypus, a fur-bearing animal that lays eggs; the three-eyed tuatara lizard; the Australian teddy bear which feeds on eucalyptus trees; the kiwi, a bird that never flies, and the echidna, an ant-eater known for its shyness. The Panda is already awaiting Mr. Tee-Van's arrival in China, being in the possession of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, who apparently appreciates the traditional importance of zoos in the social set-up of the United States.

The terrors of aerial warfare pale as Mr. Tee-Van's expedition is contemplated. Although the trip out will undoubtedly have its exciting moments, the return voyage will be fraught with horrors unknown to pilots of fighting craft. For Mr. Tee-Van will have to bring them back alive, a job no fighting force need consider.

The optimism that inspired this expeditionary force is awe-inspiring. It will be almost as difficult to provide food for some of these living curiosities as it would be to get food to the people of France. The zoo will make an attempt to grow bamboo shoots for the panda in the New York Botanical Garden greenhouses. Eucalyptus will be flown from California and Florida—that is, of course, if Mr. Tee-Van and his charges emerge safely from the haze of war which hangs over the Far East.

FOR LONGER LIFE

All science has to do to expand man's life expectancy from 63 to 550 years is to develop in him the vigor and disease resistance of a 10-year-old child. As resistance to disease is largely a chemical process, more knowledge of the nature of the process will enable the prolongation of this resistance many years. The chemists are working on it.

Current progress in gerontology, the study of the phenomena of death, recently was related to the annual autumn meeting of the American Chemical Society, and alluring possibilities of an era of "chemical Methuselahs" was presented.

Two days later, the society was told of experiments with a new vitamin B, named para-aminobenzoic acid. This substance is a sort of "mother's little helper," for it apparently darkens prematurely gray hair. Another development, inositol, has shown in experiments on animals that it may remedy baldness.

What with para-aminobenzoic acid and inositol and their possible effects on human hair, the age of "chemical Methuselahs" may actually have started. A man is supposed to be only as old as he looks.

The World Series, American style, will be fought to a conclusion early in October.

It is predicted that after the war everyone will start buying airplanes. What will they use for money?

SENATE STENOGRAPHER by MAXWELL THAYER

SYNOPSIS

Gale Holoway is hired as secretary by Senator Jeffrey Murray because she overhears him discussing a monopoly bill which a powerful lobbyist wishes to have passed. Later, at Mrs. Nan Parkinson's home—a salon for the "money boys" in politics—she is bumped into a swimming pool by Marie Gibbins who was discharged by Murray to make a job for Gale. She is rescued by handsome Joe Nash, Governor McKurt's secretary. In bed, awaiting the doctor, Gale is ministered to by Nan's maid.

CHAPTER FIVE

It would be nice, she thought, as she day-dreamed and enjoyed the rubbing, if she could play golf, ride horseback, move in that circle of society which enjoys itself intelligently, athletically, and is so truly American in everything it does, while at the same time it affects a continental air.

She would like a fine man for a husband, a child or two later on, and—

A knock at the door interrupted her thoughts and stopped the rubbing. The maid announced from the door: "It's the doctor, Miss."

A tall, middle-aged man came through the door, peered at her through his thick lenses.

GRAND THEATRE

The rugged and rip-roaring West of the post Civil War era with all its gunplay is the dramatic setting of Warner Bros.' new film, "Bad Men of Missouri," which opens Sunday at the Grand Theatre. Those were the days when the returning soldiers found their homes and farms taken over by skinflint, fraudulent bankers who had taken advantage of the average person's ignorance of finance. It was they who were responsible for breeding the lawlessness which spawned the James brothers, the Daltons and those bad men of Missouri, the Younger brothers.

It is the story of the Younger brothers and their exciting escapades that is depicted in this latest of Warner action films, a worthy successor to "Dodge City" and "Santa Fe Trail."

MATE RUNS TRENTON TO 13 TO 6 WIN OVER BRISTOL IN OPENER

Rugged Catholic Back Runs Bunnies' Line Ragged In Game

LOCALS TALLY LATE

Bristol's Lone Score Is A Short Pass In Third Quarter

By Jack Gill

A tough, rough, squat and built close-to-the-ground, little fullback from Trenton, by the name of Julius Mate, gave Bristol High School's line a lesson in line-smashing, last evening. He battered and ploughed and pushed his way past tackle and guard, using halfback Ed. Woolman as running interference. He scored two touchdowns and ran wild until they turned the light at Dunn Field off for the evening. No one can vouch for the fact that he ran home from the locker room after he took his shower.

Trenton Catholic, by virtue of Mate's grand individual performance, decisively defeated Bristol in the opener for both squads by a 13 to 6 margin. The Bunnies tallied a touchdown late in the third period on a short pass play from the nine-yard line, Chick Di Angelo's left-handed heave was clutch by Galzerano over the goal line.

The winning contingent tallied midway in the second semester on a 60-yard drive. After Paul Ruby had punted to the 40-yard line, Mate, Gropp and Cahill alternated in advancing the leather to the two, from where Mate powered his way over. His try for the extra point was blocked by a horde of Bunnies, but he quickly retrieved the bounding ball and sped across for an alert conversion.

The same boy went across on a short play up close from the three-yard stripe late in the third chukker.

Bristol showed flashes of offensive form in the second period when they reached Trenton's five-yard line. Paul Ruby, who was forced to retire from the game in the final half with an injured shoulder, ran a punt back to the 40-yard line. Di Angelo, who played fine ball for the homesters, swept end for a 10-yard gain and a first down. On the next play, Ruby faded back and shot a long pass to Capriotti to the 15-yard line. Then Ruby shot another one to Di Angelo to the nine. On a cut-back, the big fullback reached the five. A fumble on the next play lost the ball for the Cards on the eleven.

Bristol tried hard to win, but like last season, just didn't have it. The line showed a dire need for much action. Time and again the Catholic backs ran past green go-gaps in the forward wall. What's more, the line backers weren't on the job. Maybe time and more hard work will do the trick.

FALLS BOUNCES BACK WITH 18 TO 6 WIN

After a two year lapse from football, Fallsington High School bounced back into the local scholastic picture by registering a convincing 18 to 6 win over Langhorne.

Completely outclassing the Redskins on the offense, the proteges of Mike DeLisi came from a 7 to 0 half-time deficit to score eighteen points in the final two frames.

Langhorne's seven points came early in the first quarter when Mucklow took a long 40 yard pass from Douglass over the goal line. Norman Knox slung through tackle for the extra point sticking the Redskins in front, 7-0.

Fallsington lost little time after the half. Determined to obliterate the old type of football that saw defeat after defeat written into the record books, the Falcons, led by little Joe Napoli and Al Monti, swept Langhorne under.

Early in the third quarter Joe Napoli and Monti took the lead by driving through tackle from the five yard line reducing the lead to 7-6. Undisputed, the Fallsington squad continued to work perfectly on the offense in the waning moments of the last period. Joe Napoli sent his team ahead on a short pass from the two and later took another short aerial from Monti from the eight yard line, making the score read 18 to 6.

Outmaneuvering Langhorne on the ground by recording 25 first downs to the losers 3, Fallsington also hit a high
